WORK EXPERIENCE

Target

Minneapolis, MN

Software Engineer (Product)

July 2021 – Present

- Own the $2B+ same-day delivery flow on Target.com, leading improvements across 6+ micro-frontends to optimize page speed, reliability, and cross-repo deployments, contributing to record holiday conversion rates
- Integrated real-time backend services (inventory APIs, fulfillment systems) into front-end delivery experiences, maintaining synchronization across top of funnel, PDP, cart, account, checkout, etc.
- Collaborated across platform, UX, and fulfillment teams to align system behaviors and customer delivery experiences under peak traffic conditions
- Completely refactored Target's bottom of funnel experience for UX, performance, and code legibility purposes
- Proposed and shipped architectural upgrades to cross-frontend "Add to Cart" logic, reducing cart errors under peak load and enabling faster feature development across delivery, cart, and checkout teams
- Redesigned Product Detail Page (PDP), reducing user drop-off and increasing add-to-cart conversion by streamlining UX and clarifying delivery options
